

1 Corinthians 13:1 If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. 2 If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but have not love, I am no better than a piece of metal that rings or a bell that clangs. 3 If I give all I possess to the poor and surrender my body to the flames, but have not love, I gain nothing. 4 Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. 5 It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. 6 Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. 7 It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. 8 Prophecies will be done away with, tongues will cease, and knowledge will be completely understood. But where there are prophecies, where there are tongues, and where there is knowledge, they will be done away with. 9 For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when the perfect comes, the imperfect will pass away. 10 When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I acted like a child, but when I became a man, I put childish things behind me. 11 When I was a child, I knew only as I know now, but when I became a man, I know fully. 12 Now we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror, but then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know fully. 13 And the greatest of these is love. 1 Corinthians 13:1-13
