

1 Corinthians 13:1 If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. 2 If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but have not love, I am no better than a piece of brass or a clanging cymbal. 3 If I give all I possess to the poor and surrender my body to the flames, but have not love, I gain nothing. 4 Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. 5 Love always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. 6 Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. 7 It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. 8 Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will cease; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. 9 For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when perfection comes, the imperfect disappears. 10 When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I acted like a child, but when I became a man, I put childish ways behind me. 11 When I became a man, I no longer see things as I once did. Now I see things in part, but when I shall see face to face, I shall know fully, even as I am fully known. 12 Now I see but a poor reflection as in a mirror, but then I shall see as I am. Now I know in part, but then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known. 13 And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love. 1 Corinthians 13:1-13
