

Luk^o 24:1 On the first day of the week, very early in the morning, the women took the spices to anoint the body. 2 They found the stone rolled away from the tomb, 3 but when they entered, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. 4 While they were wondering about this, two men in clothes that gleamed like lightning stood beside them. 5 In their fright the women fell on their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead? 6 He is not here; he has risen. Remember how he told you, while he was still with you in Galilee: 7 'The Son of Man must be delivered over to the hands of sinners, be crucified and on the third day be raised again.'" 8 Then they remembered his words. 9 When they returned to Jerusalem, they told all these things to the apostles. 10 It was Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and the others with them who told of this to the apostles. 11 But they did not believe the women because their words seemed to them like nonsense. 12 Peter, however, got up and ran to the tomb. He looked in and saw the strips of linen lying by themselves, and he went away wondering to himself what had happened. 13 Now the same day two of them were going to a village called Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem. 14 They were talking with each other about everything that had happened. 15 As they walked and talked, Jesus himself came up and walked along with them, though they did not recognize him. 16 He asked them, "What are you discussing together as you walk along?" They stood still, their faces downcast, and said to him, "The only one visiting Jerusalem who does not know these things?" 17 He said to them, "What things?" 18 One of them, named Cleopas, answered him, "Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified with the Jews. He was our chief prophet, powerful in deed and word, who was doing signs and wonders among the people."

redem Israel. And what is more, it is the third day since all this took place. 22 In addition, some of the women told us that they had seen a vision of angels, who said he was alive. 24 Then some of our companions went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but they did not see Jesus." 25 He said to them, "How foolish you are, and how slow to believe all that the prophets have spoken! 26 Did not your hearts open to the words of the prophets? 27 And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in the Scriptures concerning himself." 28 As they approached the village to which they were going, they wanted to stay with him, but he said to them, "It is not my will to stay with you, but I must go on to Jerusalem. 29 For I am going to be crucified there, and three days later I will be raised. 30 After that, I will go to Galilee. 31 Stay with us for it is nearly evening; the day is almost over. So he stayed with them, he took bread, gave thanks, broke it and ate, and they recognized him, and their hearts were opened. 32 They asked each other, "Were not our hearts opened and our eyes opened when he talked with us on the road and opened the Scriptures to us?" 33 They got up and returned to Jerusalem. There they found the eleven and those with them, assembled and eating. 34 They told them what had happened on the way, and how he had appeared to them. 35 When the two of them recognized by them when he broke the bread. 36 He stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you." 37 They were startled and frightened, saying, "They saw a ghost." 38 He said to them, "Why are you troubled, and why do doubts rise in your minds? Look at my hands and feet. They are here. I am the same as you see me. Touch me and see. I have flesh and bones, as you can see." 39 He showed them his wounds. 40 While they still dis-
